Book Reviews

'The Education of a Young Liberal', Melbourne University Publishing, August 2006

'A most entertaining and insightful book' Australian Financial Review (Phillip Coorey, 19/6/2020)

'A rollicking and at times very funny read. It's incisive too . . . compulsory reading.' The Bulletin magazine (Tony Wright, 19/09/2006)

'The material is transformed, because Hyde Page is a writer, with style and a narrative gift matched with a well-developed sense of irony . . . should be filmed as a series, elegantly merciless' Australian Financial Review (Sylvia Lawson, 22/09/2006)

'The author has a clear talent for writing and a gift for characterisation... The work as a whole has the drive and rhythm of a great road novel.' Policy Magazine (Christian Porter, Summer 06/2007 issue)

'A swift, vigorous and often exciting narrative. . . this is an important and disturbing work' Quadrant Magazine (Tim Train, October 2006 issue)

'Hyde Page tells a fascinating story, which anyone interested in Australian politics should find as interesting as it is disturbing' IPA Review (Tim Hickman, October 2006)
